VOL. VI. RALEIGH, FRIDAY, SEPT. 8, 1865 NO. 253.

THE NEWS.

—For latest news see Fourth Page.

—Brigham Young has a large deposit in the Bank of England. So had not a few of the late rebel leaders. See article on the "Mormons" on our third page.

—Gen. Wells of Louisiana, has appointed an agent to proceed up the Red river and seize, on behalf and for the benefit of the State, all the cotton purchased by Henry W. Allen, formerly the rebel Governor.

—Captain Semmes, of Alabama pirate notoriety, and his son are still in New Orleans.

—A Vicksburg paper urges as an argument in favor of clemency to Jeff. Davis [illegible] the rebel ex-Governor Clark, of Mississippi, the fact that they added glory to the national flag as commanders of the First and Second Mississippi regiments in the Mexican war.

—The New York Times, while it expresses the opinion "Jefferson Davis, in all essentials is as complete a traitor as ever existed," thinks that his conviction is by no means certain.

—The New York Herald, in referring to the recent troubles in Mississippi says that Mr. Sharkey though not the first of the Provisional Governors for the rebellious States appointed by the President, took the lead of all the others in his efforts forts for a restoration o civil government; and his convention delegates were elected, met, transacted their business and adjourned before even the elections had been held in any of the other States. This rapidity of action seemed in itself very commendable; but it appears that the Governor, at least to the eyes of the State and War departments, in his anxiety for the restoration of his commonwealth to her old ante-rebellion status is a little too enterprising, and he has consequently gotten himself into difficulties with the Secretary of State and the Secretary of War. We have noticed the fact of General Slocum having forbidden the raising of the State militia which Governor Sharkey ordered by proclamation to be enrolled in every county, and in our New Orleans correspondence of this morning a further explanation of the difficulty is given. To the Governor's remonstrances at Washington that the military refused to honor writs of habeas corpus issued by local judges, both Secretary Seward and Secretary Stanton reply that, though the President has appointed a Provisional Governor, martial law is still predominant in the State, and it is the duty of the national military to preserve order and mete out justice, for the accomplishment of which important objects the people of Mississippi have not yet demonstrated their ability or disposition. It is thought that the result of this misunderstanding will be the resignation of Governor Sharkey.

—The London Times goes over a Liverpool Judge very roughly because he insisted that a Quaker should take off his hat. Says the Times: "An unusual episode at the Liverpool Assizes deserves more passing attention. Upon the jury taking their places in the box on Monday, a quaker, who was among their number, kept his hat on. This irregularity disturbed the equanimity of the Judge, Mr. Baron Bramwell, and he requested the removal of the hat. The Quaker urged that conscience compelled him to keep it on. The Judge replied that "conscience no more compelled him to keep his hat on than it did his shoes, and that he must have respect for others," and threatened to fine him £10 if he did not take off the hat. "It is a reverence for the Almighty," said the juryman, "which compels me to keep it on." "Don't be nonsensical," retorted the Judge, "your reason is discreditable to common sense." The quaker persisted, and the Judge at length fined him £10 and ordered him to leave the box. "Any person," he added, "with such nonsense in his head is not fit to sit upon the jury. I shall call on him again to-morrow, and if he still persists in his nonsense I shall fine him again."

—A letter from Hamilton, Canada, says that last week a woman named Perkins, wife of a respectable well-to-do farmer, near Arantford, U. C., finding herself upon her deathbed, sent for a clergyman and confessed that she had at different periods of her life committed six murders, and all by poison. At first it was imagined that she was delirious, but subsequent inquiry has afforded ample corroboration of the poor woman's statement. She said that she had a mania for destroying human life, and it was only by the greatest self-restraint that she could keep herself from secretly poisoning all persons with whom she was on terms of friendship. She had, however, poisoned four children and two adults, and what makes the latter still more revolting, is the fact that two of the former were her own children, and one of the latter her first husband's. The children were murdered in England, and the adults in Canada.

—The St. Louis Democrat says that the house of Judge Wright, in Phelps County, Mo., who with four of his sons was recently shot by a detachment of militia detailed by Col. Babcock to take them to Rolla, was a rendezvous for bushwhackers, and nothing less than a fortress on a small scale, being loop-holed and otherwise arranged for defence. Some of the sons had been engaged in recent murders of Union men, articles of whose personal property were found on the premises, and admitted by Mrs. Wright to have been brought there by one of her sons. While the guard were taking the Wrights to Rolla for trial, they made a rush to escape, and were shot down. A telegram from Rolla Aug. 29, says that Col. Babcock and his entire command have been exonerated from all blame in the matter, and Col. B., who had been placed under arrest, was released.

—When the Great Eastern steamed from Valentia upon the important business of laying the Atlantic cable, she carried a supply of victual, so various, so large, and so choice as to provoke the envy of ordinary seafarers. How many live oxen, sheep, chickens, ducks, geese—what wonderful provision of sweet vegetables, and ice, and wine—was told at the time; but, after all, the voyagers got no beef. Before the vessel had been long at sea, murrain appeared among the oxen, and one after another they were killed and thrown overboard.

Retirement of the Columbian Minister.

Senor Don E. Salzar, who for some time past has acceptably represented the Columbian States as Envoy Extraordinary and Minister Plenipotentiary, had taken leave of the President in his diplomatic character, and made some appropriate remarks on the occasion, in which he spoke of the gratification afforded him by the fraternal and uninterrupted relations of the two countries and concluded as follows:—

Columbia, in her place, has sympathy with your calamities and with your victories. She has celebrated with jubilee the return of peace and the guarantees of humanitarian sentiments as so many additional bonds of union and so many further principles of conservation for countries governed by democratic institutions. Permit me to renew to you the wishes which the President and people of Columbia make for your personal happiness and for the prosperity of the American people, and to assure you that in separating myself from this country I shall carry with me agreeable recollections of my sojourn in it and of its hospitable and cultivated society.

The President replied as follows:

Mr. SALZAR—It is not without sincere regret that I receive the letter of recall which brings your mission to the United States to a close. It is very gratifying, however, to be assured, as we are by President Murillo, that you have laid down your trust only to assume another equally dignified and important in the service of your estimable government.—Do not omit to assure the President of Colombia that the United States adhere to their republican principles constantly, and especially to their policy of seeking to preserve through peaceful course the establishment of free institutions throughout the American continent, and the development of the vast resources with which it has been bountifully supplied by an allwise Providence for the general benefit of mankind. Accept, sir, for President Murillo, the assurance of my abiding respect, and for yourself personally the expression of a sincere esteem.

The Siamese Twins—What is Thought of Them in Siam.

The Bangkok (Siam) Times of June 29th, after quoting from an American paper an item about the famous Siamese twins, adds:

"The Siamese twins were born at Banyesan, a village on the northwest corner of the gulf. Their father was a Chinaman, and their mother was Siamo-Chinese woman. Their father died while they were young. Their mother was alive on our arrival at Siam in 1848, but died soon after. The last we heard, an older brother was living at the village of Meklong. We were well acquainted with the nurse who took care of them in their infancy and youth, and who ever spoke of her duties as temte lumbark nuk, extremely difficult. The twins were taken to the United States by Captain Coffin, when only eighteen years of age. We met them in New York some years ago, with two of their children, on exhibition. We should have taken them for Malays rather than Chinese or Siamese. Their children are quite dark, the mothers being mulattoes. They had nearly forgotten all their knowledge of the Siamese language. After meeting them a few times, however, they began to recall it, and could use some words and phrases with tolerable accuracy. As they began to call up the Siamese it was amusing to notice their criticisms on the tones. They never changed their religion, regarding it with their countrymen equal to any in the world. This is not surprising; being on exhibition so much, and hearing so many unkind and sarcastic remarks about themselves, it must be very difficult, if not impossible, to form a favorable opinion of people calling themselves enlightened and Christian."

A WILD BEAST FIGHT.—At Saumur, lately, occurred a combat between a lion and a hyena in a menagerie, which is thus described:

The tamer was in a large cage with a lion and a hyena. After having made them go through several performances, he gave some meat, as usual, to the two animals, when suddenly the lion, animated by the smell of flesh, threw himself on the hyena, overturned him, and bit him in the neck.—The savage instincts of the king of the desert manifested themselves immediately; the more the blood flowed the more he seemed to be roused; and his sinister look inspired the most serious fears for M. Schmidt, the lion tamer. He did not, however, lose his courage for an instant. The first means which he employed were blows from the whip.—A revolver was soon handed to him; with this he discharged shots at the lion, which did not in the least move him, as he still kept his victim between his teeth, and it appeared almost without life.—Great concern prevailed in the boxes; the women cried, and perhaps the uproar excited the lion.—The employees of the menagerie assembled around the cage. They passed a drag-hook to M. Schmidt, who made it penetrate the mouth of the lion, while some of them gave the animal repeated blows through the bars. The lion than yielded, and precipitated himself against bars. M. Schmidt seized this opportunity to retire, dragging with him the hyena into a neighboring cage. A door then separated them from the lion. It was time: for, already furious, he was approaching, and, his mouth being covered with blood, dashed at the door. M Schmidt showed himself to the spectators and received their congratulations, but he was pale and covered with blood. The hyena is grievously wounded, but will recover.

—The Toronto Globe publishes an abstract of the report of Mr. Torrance, the commissioner appointed to inquire into the conduct of the notorious Justice Coursol, the confederate of the St. Alban's robbers. Mr. Torrance exonerates Coursol and Lamothe of corrupt and improper motives. He, however, recommends that Coursol should be indited for malfeasance of office. Coursol, in his correspondence with Mr. Torrance, defends himself, saying that he acted as judge and not as justice of the peace in the case, and was not bound to report to the Government. Mr. Torrance holds the contrary view. The Telegraph lays great stress on the telegram from Mr. Cartier to Judge Coursol, when he sent for instructions when the raiders were in St. John. Mr. Cartier replied: "As you are a judge, use your own discretion."

It is a waste of raw material to put five dollars' worth of beaver on ten cents' worth of brains.

THE CITY.

A MORAL.—It is a feeling of gratified pride that we call the attention of our readers and the citizens of Raleigh and North Carolina generally, to the fact that our exertions in the way of obtaining and presenting to them the latest news from all quarters, have been successful, so far as "beating" our cotemporaries are concerned. Yesterday we informed them "all about" Jeff Davis' health and Gen. Lee's acceptance of the Presidency of the Washington College, and day before we announced the arrival of General Meade, these items of of news appearing exclusively in our columns. These are but a few recent instances of our success, and any one who has noticed it, will give us credit for our numerous other "beats"—to use an expression of the craft.

MORAL.—People will read the best newspaper; ergo advertise in it, and your advertisements will be seen, read and heeded. In other words send your "ads" to the Progress.

THE PEOPLE'S LINE.—On a line with the Progress, three doors below it on Fayetteville street, in the old Post Office building, the People's direct line to good fellowship has a "shebang," as Sherman's burners would say, where are dispensed things the most convivial and palatable imaginable. Yesterday, at meridian, a cigar box entered our sanctum, bearing a darkey with it, which (the box not the darkey) we were requested to open. On doing so, we discovered two rooster's caudal appendages—generally denominated cocktails—constructed of brandy a thousand years old, more or less—morally less—an imbibation of which gave to the recipients much of that pleasurable sensation and dreamy mood attributed to the hasheesh eaters. For a personal demonstration of the facts set forth in this pronunciamento, we advise all of our readers who entertain any regard whatever for spinal continuations, as above described, to take a trip on said People's Line.

A DELICATE QUESTION.—In speaking of the pardon of Dr. Hawkins, of Warren, and Mr. Geo. W. Mordecai, of our city, the Standard thus disposes of the report that they were granted through the intervention of Gov. Holden:

"The persons applied for pardon through the Governor, and the applications were forwarded to the President with the recommendation that for the present they should be suspended. It was not the wish of Gov. Holden that their estates should be confiscated, but he thought it was just to the loyal Union men of the State that such offenders should not be permitted to participate as voters in the reorganization of the State government. Meanwhile these gentlemen repaired to Washington to press their cases. The State Agent, Dr. R. J. Powell, knowing that the Governor had recommended their suspension, declined to aid them. But they appeared before the President, and as we are informed, told him that they had been recommended for pardon by the Governor. Their applications could not be found by the Clerk; and the President, taking it for granted that their representations were correct, granted them a pardon."

PUBLIC DEBT.—From the official statement, of the public treasurer, Mr. Johathan Worth, we clip the following as to the public debt of our State:

Total indebtedness, (excluding English debt.)		$0,315,282,61
Resources of State, are:
Stocks in R. Roads	6,516,500,00
Bonds on R. Roads and other corporations	3,117,786,88
		9,634,286,88
Balance,		$20,681,695,73

I have not yet obtained the requisite information to enable me to state the amount of our blockade debt in England. It is probably about 250,000.

REMITTED.—We are by an order issued from the Treasurers Department of North Carolina, dated Raleigh, N. C., August 29th, 1865, that in the case of private Thomas Wilcox, Company K, 120th Indiana Infantry, and Jefferson Younger, a citizen—tried by Military Commission which convened at Raleigh, N. C., August 5th, 1865, to try [illegible] which were promulgated in general order, No. 4, current series headquarters District of Raleigh—the sentence—so far as they relate to confinement at hard labor—have been remitted.

COLORED HELP.—A gentleman who recently visited the North, reports that [illegible] demand in Massachusetts for colored house servants.—Help of this description is very scarce [illegible] and the best of wages are being paid. It is an excellent opportunity for good [illegible] who are out of employment in this or other localities. They will be [illegible] and kind treatment.

[illegible] growing feeling of hostility to the [illegible] and public whipping and exhibition in the streets [illegible] crime. We hope both [illegible] will be substituted with [illegible]

GRAPE HULLS.—Yesterday afternoon a lady sprained her ankle badly through the careless practice some people indulge of throwing grape hulls on the pavements. It ought to be avoided by eating fruit in proper places.

ATTENTION.—We learn that our old fellow citizen W. C. Upchurch, whose grocery establishment on Hargett St. has been so successful in Raleigh since a period antedating the remembrance of all save the very oldest inhabitants, has just returned from the north with a new stock of goods, purchased during the recent deduction in the markets. Give him a call.

GOOD IN THE CARDS.—We have a large lot of fine paper on hand, and can print military blanks, court blanks, circulars, catalogues, &c., at the shortest notice, and at northern prices.

Also a large lot of cards on hand, which we can print at from $5 to $8 a thousand. Orders solicited at PROGRESS OFFICE.

[Dr. Ketson is a physician of over thirty years' experience, and a graduate of the Jefferson Medical College and of the University of Medicine and Surgery of Philadelphia.] MR. H. T. HELMBOLD:

Dear Sir:—In regard to the question asked me as to my opinion about Buchu, I would say that I have used and sold the article in various forms for the past thirty years. I do not think there is any form or preparation of it I have not used or known to be used, in the various diseases where such medicate agent would be indicated. You are aware, as well as myself, that it has been extensively employed in the various diseases of the bladder and kidneys, and the reputation it has acquired in my judgment is warranted by the facts.

I have seen and used, as before stated, every form of Buchu—the powdered leaves, the simple decoction, tincture, fluid extracts,—and I am not cognizant of any preparation of that plant at all equal to yours. Twelve years' experience ought, I think, to give me the right to judge of its merits, and without prejudice or partiality I give yours precedence over all others. I do not value a thing according to its bulk, if I did other Buchus would out-do yours, but I hold to the doctrine that bulk and quantity do not make up value—if they did a copper cent would be worth more than a gold dollar.

I value your Buchu for its effect on patients. I have cured with it, and seen cured with it, more diseases of the bladder and kidneys than I have ever seen cured with any other Buchu, or any other proprietory compound of whatever name.

Respectfully yours, &c.,
GEO. H. KEYSER.

DAILY PROGRESS.

RALEIGH, N. C.

THURSDAY, SEPT. 7, 1865.

A Base Libel.

There are certain people in Raleigh who, in their haste to denounce those who oppose their interests, fall into errors which in turn should be denounced. Of this class, is the writer of the following base libel on the intelligence of our people:—

A man says alluding of course to the legal aspects of the question, "slavery is not dead—it may yet be restored," and such like expressions, showing that the man has not yet waked up to the real condition of things, and forthwith he is denounced as a traitor. And yet it is well known that the diffusion of intelligence in the State has been so retarded, that there are hundreds of men who may really not know even to this hour, that Gen. Lee has surrendered or that President Johnson has been sworn into office. Most of the expressions which are objected to, are made either ignorantly or without reflection. We contend therefore that our judgments of each other should not be made hastily, and that it is always safest to err on the side of humanity and charity.

To excuse the misdemeanors of any class of men on the ground of ignorance, is to attempt to justify crime, for it is a well acknowledged fact that nothing is more conducive to crime than ignorance. If an outsider were to make such a charge against the intelligence of our community, the whole "true press" of the State, would be up in arms against him; but coming, as it does now, from one of the "true friends of the State," we must accept it as true,—that is, if we do not want to be denounced as "being determined to alienate our people from each other."

It is fortunate for the reputation of the State, that the original publication of the above appeared as it did, for thereby it only reached a few of our own people, now, however, we send it abroad to the world, and accompany it with our denial and the statement that a more intelligent, better read, or better informed class of people, do not exist in the United States, than the inhabitants of North Carolina. It is true that the lack of mail facilities has retarded the transmission of intelligence somewhat, but Gov. Holden's messengers conveyed his proclamations and appointments to each county in the State, either on horseback or otherwise. Every county in the State is now under the control of provisional officers appointed by him, and interested candidates are stumping them for the convention.—Thus, we see that, if a man says "slavery is not dead—it may yet be revived"—particularly if he be intelligent enough to argue as to the "legal aspects of the question,"—he acts advisedly, and knowing the law, is guilty of using seditious language.

R. E. Lee.

In our latest news column, yesterday, we informed our readers that the noted ex-rebel chief, whose name heads this article, had accepted the Presidency of the Washington College, Lexington, Va. In order that they may be more fully informed, we copy the following card entire, from an extra edition of the Lexington Gazette:

The gratifying duty of announcing to the country the acceptance by Gen. R. L. Lee of the Presidency of Washington College has been devolved upon the undersigned by the Board of Trustees of that Institution. The accession of this distinguished gentleman to the faculty of his venerable College, and as its honored chief, is destined, we trust, to mark the commencement of a new era in its history, and most cordially do we congratulate its numerous friends on this most auspicious event. The high, noble, and patriotic motives which impelled our beloved chief, in accepting the honorable, but comparatively humble position tendered to him by the authorities of the college, must win for him a new title to the admiration and love of his countrymen. The college, under the administration and supervision of Gen. Lee, will resume its exercises on the 14th instant.

At a meeting of the Board of Trustees of the college, convened in Lexington, on Thursday, 31st ult., the following resolution was unanimously passed, the publication of which is demanded as an act of justice alike to General Lee and themselves:

"Resolved That the Board heartily concur in and fully endorses the sentiments so well expressed by Gen. Lee, in his letter of acceptance of the Presidency of Washington College, that 'it is the duty of every citizen, in the present condition of the country, to do all in his power to aid in the restoration of peace and harmony, and in no way to oppose the policy of the State or General Government directed to that object;' and that 'it is particularly incumbent on those charged with the instruction of the young to set an example of submission to authority;' sentiments that cannot fail to commend themselves to the approval of the President of the United States, and to the unqualified assent of all sensible and virtuous citizens."

In dedicating his future life to the holy work of educating the youth of his country, Gen. Lee represents a new and interesting phase of his grand and heroic character, a character than which no more perfect model exists among living men. "'Tis a solid fabric and will well support the laurels that adorn it."

Let the young men of the country, North as well as South, be wise, and profit, not less by his precepts, than by his great example.

JOHN W. BROCKENBROUGH,
Rector of Washington College.
Lexington, Va., Sept. 1st, 1865.

In the above card we think that the expression "our beloved chief" might have been omitted with propriety. Gen. Lee, was undoubtedly a great man, but under the present condition affairs we are of the opinion that it is poor taste to refer to him after the manner of rebellious times. We believe, however, that it was the intention of the worthy Rector, in the use of the phrase, to indicate his regard for him as the chief of the institution.

In this connection it will not be improper to quote the following from the Chicago Tribune:—

"Gen. Lee, we understand, has applied for pardon in a voluminous document denying his guilt, i. e., denying that he is a proper case for pardon. On the other hand it is largely claimed by Lee's Northern friends that the terms of his surrender to Grant amount to a pardon, and shield him from all punishment by the Government."

The Chicago Republican, now edited by Hon. Chas. A. Dana, formerly Assistant Secretary of War, and therefore a man who should be well informed on such subjects, replies to the Tribune in the following manner:—

Gen. Lee's application is not a voluminous document, but a very brief one, containing only some forty or fifty words. It says nothing about his guilt or innocence, either affirmatively or negatively. Nor have we ever heard of any of Lee's friends who claimed that his surrender involved pardon. The utmost that any one has ever claimed about it is that it guarantees his personal security, so long as he obeys the laws in force at the place where he resides. But this is not pardon, because it leaves him without any civil rights and liable to trial and punishment for his great political and military crimes, should he ever commit any infraction of the laws in question.

Mexico and Maximilian.

The Army and Navy Journal discusses the Mexican question, as effected by Mr. Stanton's order, reducing General Sheridan's force to a peace basis, in a candid and soldier-like manner. It sums up the issue pointedly thus:

"Nevertheless, the dissipation of the war cloud does not wholly clear the sky. Why is there less danger of hostilities? There are two ways out of the difficulty, and both are clear. Napoleon yields his point, or else we do. It is doubtful whether even diplomatic sophistry could raise dust enough to obscure that inference. Now, so strongly is the Monroe doctrine held by the people, that it is taken for granted it will be maintained, and, indeed, has been maintained. In brief, it may be concluded that the French troops will gradually withdraw from Mexico. It was their presence supporting an Austrian Archduke on the American Continent that our people objected to. It is to be presumed that this objection is sustained, and that the troops will be withdrawn.

"But will Maximilian head the withdrawing party? That is another matter. The fact that Mexico is governed by Prince or President is of little moment to us. Whether Ferdinand Maximilian shall rule the country rather than Juan Cortinas, or the aged exile of St. Thomas rather than either, does not greatly concern the Washington Cabinet, provided the Mexicans can be satisfied. It is true that the genius of our people, the genius of civilization on this Western Continent, is repugnant to feudal or monarchial institutions. Nevertheless, to insist that none of our neighbors shall be governed except in the mode we happen to fancy, would be preposterous.—What we understand the American people to object to is, first, any European interference in Mexican politics, and especially an armed intervention of the kind actually existing; and, secondly, the acquisition of territory in Mexico by a Power all of whose sympathy and support are with the European States. But this is far enough to go. To vindicate the Monroe doctrine we require European Powers to keep "hands off" from America. If they do so it is hardly necessary for the United States to then invade Mexico and settle a new Government for the people."

After expiating at some length on the discreditable record of Cortinas, and the hollowness of his claims upon our sympathy, the article concludes as follows:

"It is clear, therefore, that our people care very little, in general, who governs in Mexico, provided only he be not the protégé or agent of some European dynasty. We ask the ruler, whoever he may be, to rely exclusively on the will of the Mexican people; or, if you please, on that divinity which is reputed to hedge a king, and not on any hedge of French bayonets. Let the foreign prop for Maximilian's throne tremble; if, afterwards, that throne is sustained, it must be because Mexicans themselves have supplied the allegiance which was hired of foreigners. It is very clear that the Mexicans, left free of foreign intervention, will depose him. Neither honor or public sentiment, therefore, requires our Government to insist in terms upon the abdication of Maximilian. That will follow of course upon the withdrawal of his subsidized troops. He will take the alarm in season, and will fly, the double-headed eagle once more eastward and homeward."

The Great French Exhibition.

The agent of the Associated Press at Washington, telegraphs the following, regarding the great French Exhibition which will be held in 1867:

From additional information recently received the probability is that it will surpass any exhibition of the kind that the world has yet seen. Hence the importance that the American public should be informed of some facts in relation to it in order that those who intend to exhibit the productions of American art or industry, may make suitable preparations commensurate with the requirements of the occasion, and such as will be creditable to our national character.—The exposition is to open it on the 1st of April, 1867, and to close it on the 31st of October of the same year. All applications for admission of articles to be exhibited must be presented before the 31st day of October, 1865, prior to which time also a plan or chart of the area to which the space will be put by each nationality respectively must be made by the foreign commissioners on a prescribed scale, and sent to the imperial commissioner. Detailed plans of articles and their distribution in the space assigned them must be furnished on the same scale by our own commissioner, as well as materials for the official catalogue, before the 31st day of January, 1866.—As Congress has not been in session since the proposed exposition was determined upon, and as that body will not convene until the limit for the applications and other preliminary proceedings of exhibitors has passed, and as our government is consequently without any appropriation or legal authority which would enable the Executive to take steps involving expenditure, it would be well for the leading representatives of the classes interested in the matter to concert such measures as may be deemed expedient to promote a creditable representation of the United States. It may be presumed that Congress will do as much if not more than on similar occasions heretofore, in providing for the transportation of articles and in other respects. It is understood that a pamphlet, containing a full statement of all the conditions and classifications of the exposition, will be distributed by the State Department as soon as it can be printed. It will be remembered that in April last a correspondence between Mr. Seward and the French Minister here on the subject (Count Treaty Napoleon, who had been appointed President of the Imperial Commission) was published. A dispatch of the 5th of April, from Mr. Seward to Mr. Bigelow, was included, in which the latter was authorized to act as special agent on the part of the United States. Mr. Bigelow subsequently designated N. M. Beckwith, Esq., an American gentleman of distinction and eminent qualifications, residing in Paris, as special commissioner on behalf of the United States. That gentleman having consented to act without compensation, and to assume the position subject to the approval of Congress when it convenes, it may be safe to assume that it would be advisable that parties in the United States who may desire to secure places for articles in the exposition, should address their applications to "N. M. Beckwith, Esq., Special Commissioner of the United States for the French Universal Exposition for 1867, care of the United States Legation, Paris." This should be done in time to reach him before the 31st of October, and should be accompanied by all details as to the nature and dimensions of articles to be exhibited.

THE STATE CONVENTION.

TO THE LOYAL VOTERS OF WAKE COUNTY.

FELLOW CITIZENS:—Having been recommended by large meetings representing twelve or fifteen districts of the county, I announced myself a candidate for the State Convention, some time since, subject to the action of a County Convention, should one be held.

At the recent term of the County Court a number of Conservatives made a call for a County Convention to nominate a ticket, which Convention met on Saturday last, but adjourned without making any nomination, there only being seven precincts represented. Previous to the assembling of the Convention, I begged my friends to drop my name if a better and more acceptable ticket could be formed, and urged the nomination or recommendation of W. H. Hood, Col. Russ and A. F. Page. I expressly authorised my friends to withdraw my name in favor of the gentlemen above named, or any one else who held their principles; but as the County meeting adjourned without forming a ticket, it leaves me no other alternative but to run. I therefore announce to my fellow citizens that I am a candidate for the State Convention and that I shall canvass the county as well as the short time left will permit me, and invite those who have slandered me to meet me on the stump.

If elected to the State Convention I shall favor all measures calculated to restore civil law throughout the State, to restore the State to the Union and to relieve our people of military rule

I shall most cheerfully and zealously support the administration of President Johnson and the administration and policy of Governor Holden.

I shall advocate the election of Governor Holden to the office he now holds by the appointment of the President when the people shall be called on to elect a chief magistrate.

In or out of the Convention I shall oppose negro suffrage. I shall advocate the enactment of laws for the protection of the person and property of the colored man, but I am opposed to extending him the right of suffrage or any other political privilege more than he now has.

I shall oppose the assumption or payment, by the State, of any debts or bonds, State bonds, Confederate bonds or County bonds, issued for the prosecution of the rebellion.

I shall favor the settlement of all debts of an individual character, contracted during the rebellion, upon a just, fair and equitable basis.

I shall favor the insertion of a clause in our State constitution declaring slavery or involuntary servitude, unless as a punishment for crime, forever abolished in North Carolina.

I give these outlines of my political principles for the benefit of such of my Conservative friends as may have been influenced or prejudiced by the falsehoods and slanders that have been circulated against me, but I will give them more in detail before the people.

I appeal to the really loyal and true Union men of Wake county for their suffrages. No man in the State has suffered more on account of the advocacy of peace measures than I have, and had my counsels been heeded by those in authority the war would have been closed before North Carolina was devastated by the presence of large armies. Of course the candidates of the secessionists will profess Unionism, but the fact that the leading secessionists, those who wanted Mr. Holden and his friends mobbed and hung last summer, support them, ought to be enough to cause all true Conservatives to shun them.

THE MORMONS.

Some Queer Results of Polygamy—The More Wives, the More Resources.

[Editorial Correspondence of the Springfield (Mass.) Republican.]

Polygamy introduces many curious cross relationships and entertwines the branches of the genealogical tree in a manner greatly to puzzle a mathematician as well as to disgust the decent minded. The marrying of two or more sisters is very common. One young Mormon merchant in Salt Lake had three sisters for his three wives.—There are several cases of men marrying both mother widow and her daughter or daughters; taking the "old women" for the sake of getting the young ones, but having children by all.

BRIGHAM'S FAMILY.

Brigham Young's wives are numberless; at least no one seems to know how many he has; and he has himself confessed to forgetfulness in the matter. The probability is he has from sixteen to twenty genuine or complete wives, and about as more women "sealed" to him for heavenly association and glory. The latter are mostly pious old ladies, eager for high seats in the Mormon heaven, and knowing no surer way to get there than to be tacked on to Brigham's angelic procession.—Some of these sealed wives of his are the earthly wives of other men; but lacking faith in their husband's heavenly glory, seek to make a sure thing of it for the future by the grace of gracious Brigham. Down east, you know, many a bushel calculates on stealing into heaven under the pious petticoats of his better wife; here the thing is reversed, and women go to heaven because their husbands take them along.

SELF-SUPPORTING WIVES.

In many cases the Mormon wives not only support themselves and their children, but help support their husbands. Thus a clerk or man with similar limited income, who has yielded to the fascinations and desires of three or four women, and married them all, makes his home with No. 1, perhaps, and the rest live apart, each by herself, taking in sewing or washing, or engaging in other employment, to keep up her establishment and be no charge to her husband.

BRIGHAM AND HIS TRAVELERS.

When President Young goes on a journey through the territory, on private or public business, he takes a considerable retinue with him, and always a wife and a barber. The former is more his servant than his companion in such cases, however.

His household is said to be admirably managed. A son in-law acts as commissary, the wives have nothing to do with the table or its supply, and whenever they want new clothes or pocket money they must go to this chief of staff or head of the family bureau. Considering the opportunities, the head of the Church of Latter Day Saints has made rather a sorry selection of women on the score of beauty. The oldest or first is a matronly looking old lady, serene and sober, the youngest and present pet, who was obtained, they say after much seeking, is comely but common looking, despite the extra millinery in which she alone of the entire family indulges. The second president and favorite prophet of the church, Hebeot Kimball, who in church and the theatre keeps the cold from his bare head, and the divine afflatus in by throwing a red bandanna handkerchief over, it is nevertheless fortunate in the beauty of his wives; it is rather an imposition upon the word beauty, indeed, to suggest it in their presence. Handsome women and girls, in fact, are scarce among the Mormons of Salt Lake—the fewer gentiles can show many more of them.

There is no more love lost between the soldiers and the Mormons than between the soldiers and the Indians. The "boys in blue" regard both as their natural enemies, and the enemies of order and the Government, and the feeling is cordially reciprocated.—There is a provost guard of soldiers at Salt Lake City, but the rent of the building which it occupies is about expiring, and according to a Mormon way of getting rid of an uncomfortable presence, none other is now to be had in its place. Every building singularly happens to be occupied or engaged just now; and the Mormons have evidently hoped to thus drive all these standing menaces and seducers of their women, as they add the soldiers all are, out of the town, and into the camp, two miles distant.

BRIGHAM'S CHILDREN.

Brigham Young's youngest children, as seen in his school, to which we were admitted, look sprightly and bright and handsome, and some of his grown up daughters are comely and clever, but his eldest sons give no particular sign of their father's smartness. The oldest Brigham, Jr., is mainly distinguished for his size and strength—he weighs two or three hundred pounds, and is massive in proportion. He has now taken one of his wives and gone to England with her on business for the church. The next son, John, is a poor and puny looking fellow, with several wives and an inordinate love for whiskey. Brigham's dynasty can die with himself.

CHANGE OF RACE NECESSARY.

There is little or no emigration to the Mormons this season, at least not yet. They have been sending out fresh relays of missionaries and recruiting agents to England and the continent of Europe, and expect great returns next year. On the Sandwich Islands they seem to have established a permanent colony, and to which has just been contributed a new company of about fifty men and women and children from Utah. Some of the gentiles believe this Sandwich island movement is toward a new and contingent home, and that, if hard pressed by the progress of civilization and the hand of authority, the Mormon leaders will gather up all their available forces and wealth and flee thither. It is certain that they must make a change of base of one sort or another before long, either in the matter of polygamy or the abolition of their peculiar abominations and kingdom. Even without interference of Government, they must soon give way here, in their present form, to their revolting institutions, before the progress of population and the diversifications of civilized industry that come along with it.

The St. Louis Republican says negroes fare worse fifty-fold over in cattle legal "Egypt" of Illinois than they do or ever did anywhere in Missouri. Only recently they were regularly auctioned at Leavenworth and Atchison. Times improving since they have been Yankeefied, and doubtless the "Nigger" will be free in Kansas.

NEW SKIRT FOR 1865.

The Great Invention of the Age in Hoop Skirts.

J. W. BRADLEY'S NEW PATENT DUPLEX ELLIPTIC, (OR DOUBLE) SPRING SKIRT.

THIS INVENTION CONSISTS OF DUPLEX (OR DOUBLE) Elliptic Tempered Steel Springs, ingeniously braided tightly and firmly together, edge to edge, making the toughest, most flexible, elastic and durable Spring ever produced. They seldom break or buckle, like the Single Springs, and consequently preserve their perfect and beautiful shape more than twice as long as any Single Spring Skirt that ever has or can be made.

The wonderful flexibility and great comfort and pleasure to any Lady wearing the Duplex Elliptic Skirt will be experienced particularly in all crowded Assemblies, Operas, Carriages, Railroad Cars, Church Pews, Arm-Chairs, for Promenade and House Dress, as the Skirt can be folded when in use to occupy a small place as easily and conveniently as a Silk or Muslin Dress.

A Lady having Enjoyed the Pleasure, Comfort and Great Convenience of wearing the Duplex Elliptic Steel Spring Skirt for a single day will never afterwards willingly dispense with their use. For Children, Misses and Young Ladies they are superior to all others.

The Steels are covered with 2 ply double twisted thread and will wear twice as long as the Single yarn covering which is used on all Single Steel Hoop Skirts. The three bottom rods on every Skirt are also Double Steel, and twice or double covered to prevent the covering from wearing off the rods when dragging down stairs, stone steps, &c., &c., which they are constantly subject to when in use.

All are made of the new and elegant Corded Tapes, and are the best quality in every part, giving to the wearer the most graceful and perfect shape possible, and are unquestionably the lightest, most desirable, comfortable and economical Skirt ever made.

WEST, BRADLEY & CARY, (late J. I. & J. O. West,) Proprietors of the Invention, and sole manufacturers, 97 Chambers and 79 & 81 Reade Streets, New York.

For sale in all first-class stores in this City, and throughout the United States and Canada, Havana & Cuba, Mexico, South America and the West Indies.

LATEST NEWS.

THE CROWD AT THE WHITE HOUSE, &c., &c.

For the first time, our arrangements to receive northern papers by express, failed us last night, and we are obliged to go to press this morning without our usual amount of late news. Never-the-less the following will be found of general interest:

THE CROWDS AT THE WHITE HOUSE.

A Washington telegram dated September, says:

As foreshadowed in yesterday's despatches, the rush for the White House was fearful to-day. The doors were besieged at an early hour, and the ante rooms were filled, crowded and packed as early as eleven o'clock. Mr. Seward and one or two others had called on business of public importance during the forenoon, which delayed the ladies's reception beyond the usual hour. The number desiring interviews was augmented by fresh arrivals until the entrance door was closed at three o'clock. At half-past three the President's room was not cleared of ladies, and over a hundred men were still patiently waiting for the door to be opened. The oppressive heat, lack of ventillation and absence of any kind of seats for the waiting sovereigns drove scores away before that hour. The question is often asked why are not provided. Will some one answer? Horace Greely and Gov. Brown of Georgia, were in the crowd, but departed without seeing the President.

PROGRESS OF RESTORATION.

Intelligence from Texas is to the effect that there will be no trouble whatever in that State in the work of restoration. The information from the other Southern States is alike favorable. The provisional governors are represented as doing all in their power to conform to the views of the President of the United States on that important subject.

PARDONED BY THE PRESIDENT.

The following persons were fully pardoned by the President on Saturday.

Thos A Edwards, Robert Leslie, S Bright, J H Burney, Richard G Morris, Robert E Morris, P McCormick, H W Barksdale, Wm G Young, Alexander Finely, L G Tinsley, Thos Tinsley, Eucius O Washington, O H Chalkley, John B Davies, John D Hammersley, C A Purcell, John W Taylor, John G Shoots, G L Watson and M Wickham of Virginia; Alexander Dimitry of Louisiana; Andrew Jackson Ingersoll, Jonathan Bliss and J B Berthes, of Alabama; John L Meetham and Benj C Yancey, of Georgia; John Willis, Mr. Jones, B S Ricks, sr., and Richard Winter of Mississippi, and W D McNish of Tenn.

—The more fully the particulars of the late Polish rebellion come to light, the greater and graver appears the struggle of that unfortunate race. In making up accounts, the Russian Government have now discovered the significant fact that the number of people who left Warsaw to join the insurrectionary bands in 1862 and 1863 amounted to no less than 8,128, out of a population of 216,000. Of these 83 were children between 10 and 14 years old, 1,902 were betwen 20 and 25, 1,463 between 25 and 30, 869 between 30 and 35, 568 between 35 and 40, 376 between 40 and 45, 207 between 45 and 50, 110 between 50 and 55, 62 between 55 and 60 43 between 60 and 65, 16 between 65 and 70, and 75, 4 between 75 and 80, 3 between 80 and 85.

—Extra Billy Smith is a fair specimen of Modern Virginia aristocracy as contrasted with the Virginia aristocracy when the Randolphs and the Barbours gave tone to Old Dominion society. He is as illiterate a boor as was ever made. He started as a stage driver, became a mail contractor, and became wealthy off fraudulent extra charges for mail services. When, on a triangular contest, he got himself into Congress, the Hunters and Masons turned their backs upon him. When two years ago, he was elected Confederate Governor of Virginia, the Richmond papers ridiculed him as a drunkard and a fool. He is now too aristocratically rebel to ask for pardon from "a tailer."

—Senator Sherman, of Ohio, made a speech on Thursday, at Ravenna. As to the Democratic cry for the taxation of U S. Bonds the Senator (who is Chairman of the Senate's Finance Committee) said that such tax cannot be laid upon the bonds by States and municipalities without reversing the often-reaffirmed decisions of the Supreme Court, and affecting the constitutional power of the government to borrow money on the credit of the United States. He regards the proviso in the loan laws exempting the bonds from State and municipal taxation, as no more than a notification to the holders of their legal rights, and that no such tax could have been levied by the States, even had the proviso not been inserted; in this opinion following the decisions of the Supreme Court, and the reasoning of Chief-Justice Marshal.
